

GREAT LAKES CENTER

FOR EDUCATION RESEARCH & PRACTICE

Your resource for independent education research

The Great Lakes Center for Education Research & Practice, supported by educators across the country, is committed to disseminating high-quality, independent research and reviews to help inform education policy. We provide research-based resources for educators, community leaders, decision-makers, parents and students.

The work we support is:

Completed by independent researchers
associated with major universities
across the U.S.

Empirically
sound and meets the recognized
requirements of academic and social science scholarship.

Subject to a rigorous
peer review
process.

Independent reviews and research educators count on

Think Twice Weekly

Think Twice Weekly is a weekly email newsletter that delivers the latest education research reports and articles to your inbox.

Policy Briefs & Research

We're committed to providing the public, educators and policymakers with independent research. We fund policy briefs and research on important education issues including: high-stakes testing, student achievement, charter schools, school choice, vouchers, professional development and much more.
